A map of California with its counties outlined. The map is color-coded based on the 'mean' variable. The colors range from dark blue (low values) to dark red (high values). The highest values (dark red) are concentrated in the Central Valley, particularly in the Sacramento and San Joaquin River valleys. The lowest values (dark blue) are found in the coastal regions, particularly along the Pacific coast. The map also shows the state's borders with Oregon, Nevada, and Arizona.
